Nittany Lions Seek 32nd Straight Non-Losing Season

Penn State in 1970 will be shooting for its 32nd straight season without a losing record. The Nittany Lions last lost more grid games than they won in 1938, when the record was 3-4-1. Since then they've registered 26 straight winning seasons (1939 through 1964), two .500 seasons (5-5) in 1965 and 1966, an 8-2 campaign in 1967 and then 2 unbeaten 10-0 achievements. They've posted 202 regular-season victories against 75 defeats and 9 ties since 1938, produced unbeaten elevens in 1947, 1968, and 1969, won Eastern championships in 1947, 1961, 1962, 1964, 1967, 1968, 1969, and following eight campaigns — 1947-59-60-61-62-67-68-69 — went to major bowl games.

Lions 4th Among Nation's Winningest Teams

Penn State ranks fourth among the nation's "winningest" college football teams over the last quarter-century, 1945 through 1969. The Nittany Lions leaped from their eighth-place ranking of a year ago on the strength of 1969's perfect season — their second straight perfect season.

The rankings were compiled for this brochure by Bob Hoobing, former sports editor of the Boston Herald and long-time Associated Press sports editor in Boston.

"Year of the Sellout"

In 1968, Penn State football followers called it "The Year of the Lion."

Last year, it was "Pride and Poise."

And 1970 is shaping up as "The Year of the Sellout."

At the time this brochure went to press, there were a limited number of tickets remaining for only one of Penn State's five home games — the Pitt clash on Nov. 21.

The Navy, Syracuse, West Virginia and Ohio University games were all sold out as early as late spring and the Pitt game is sure to sell out too.

Never before has Penn State sold a game out as early as it did the Syracuse game (April 27) and never before had as many as four games been sold out by June 14, the date on which the Navy game sold out.

All of which means the Nittany Lions — perennial Eastern pace-setters in attendance — will go right on breaking their own attendance records.

Last year they drew a record total of 245,942 fans (an average of 49,188 per game) for five home dates with Colorado, West Virginia, Ohio University, Boston College and Maryland. The West Virginia crowd of 52,713 was tops for the season and is the biggest in Penn State history.

Most of those records figure to be broken in 1970 when an estimated total of nearly 250,000 fans will flock to Beaver Stadium.

About the System

The Nittany Lions will continue to play a multiple offense in 1970, with emphasis on the wing-T. Featured will be a wide variety of formations from which the objectives are an attempt to develop balance between effective inside and outside running attacks, and consistent passing.

Defensively, the Lions usually will operate with a four-man line, four linebackers (one of whom may be a rover at times), and a deep secondary of two halfbacks and a safety.

PROSPECTS FOR 1970

Joe Paterno and his Penn State staff faced the task last spring of starting to rebuild one of college football's all-time defensive units.

By the time Penn State opens its 1970 season against Navy, Paterno must find replacements for 11 regulars who helped lead the 1969 team to a second straight undefeated season, a second straight Orange Bowl victory, a second-place national ranking and a seventh Lambert Trophy (three in the past five years).

Seven of those 11 were members of football's finest 1969 defensive aggregation, and the list — Mike Reid, Steve Smear, Dennis Onkotz, John Ebersole, Neal Smith, Jim Kates and Paul Johnson — reads like an all-star list. Reid, Onkotz and Smith were first-team All-America selections, Smear was a second-team choice, while Kates, Johnson and Ebersole were named to the All-East squad.

From the offensive unit, State loses All-America Charlie Pittman, a halfback who scored more points, more touchdowns and carried the football more times than any other Nittany Lion in history, as well as quarterback Chuck Burkhardt, tackle Tom Jackson, fullback Don Abbey and tight end Pete Johnson.

In all, the Lions lost 17 lettermen. Included among the 31 returning lettermen are Center Warren Koegel and Guards Charlie Zapiec (switched to inside linebacker late in spring drills) and Bob Holuba, the interior of last year's No. 1 offensive line; Franco Harris and Lydell Mitchell, last season's No. 2 and No. 3 rushers; Split End Greg Edmonds, the leading receiver; Mike Reitz, record-setting placekicker, and seasoned tackles Vic Surma and Dave Joyner.

The returning defensive starters are All-East Linebacker Jam Ham, a player who should rank in the "super-star" category this fall according to Paterno; Linebacker Gary Hull (who started at defensive end last year); Linebacker Mike Smith and Halfback George Landis.

Smith and Landis did not participate in spring practice because of baseball. When Smith does report to football in the fall he'll probably return to defensive halfback, a position he played in 1968.

The battle to succeed Burkhardt at quarterback was close to a standoff at the end of spring practice between Mike Cooper, the No. 2 man last year, and Bob Parsons, the No. 3 quarterback and No. 1 punter last year — with Cooper holding a slight edge. Pushing these two is John Hufnagel, the top freshman quarterback in 1969. He is from the same hometown (McKees Rocks) and the same high school (Montour) as Burkhardt.

"This battle will resume in the fall," Paterno said, "and we'll have a good quarterback no matter who finally wins the job. All three handled themselves well in the spring."

In the final spring game Parsons completed 15 of 20 passes for 267 yards and three touchdowns, Cooper was 11 for 22, 191 yards and four touchdowns and Hufnagel was four for 15 for 43 yards.

Lettermen Joyner and Jim McCord take over for the graduated Jackson and Pete Johnson at tackle and tight end respectively and, except for one guard spot, the rest of the offensive line appears set with veterans Koegel, Surma, Holuba and Edmonds. That exception is right guard, where non-lettered returnee Bob Knechtel and sophomore Schaukowitch are battling to succeed two-year starter Charlie Zapiec, now an inside linebacker. He was moved there during the final week of spring practice.

Mitchell and Harris return to the backfield with two-time letterman Gary Deuel the likely replacement for Pittman in the starting unit. Behind this group are lettermen Joel Ramich, Fran Ganter (named the most improved player in spring drills), and Mike Reitz (a guard last year but a running back in high school), non-lettered returnee Eric Bass and promising newcomer Gary Hayman, who caught nine passes for 164 yards and a touchdown in the spring game. Charlie Wilson, a two-time letter winner at offensive halfback, was moved to safety midway through spring practice.

What about the defensive problems?

A long list of injuries and experimental switching of personnel to new positions gave State a "new look" unit almost every day last spring. As a result the Lions probably are somewhat behind where Paterno and his staff hoped they would be when fall practice opens August 28.

Nevertheless, Paterno is sure the Lions will eventually have a sound defensive unit, "certainly not at the beginning of the season, but hopefully after a few games."

"The personnel and talent appear to be there," he said, "and the job this fall is to determine if we now have players in the right spots."

Ham, Hull, Landis and Smith form the nucleus around which Paterno is building.

Hull and All-America hopeful Ham give the Lions solid outside linebacking with Gary Gray and Zapiec manning the inside spots. Gray lettered behind Jim Kates last year. Of the new linebackers, John Skorupan stood out this spring.

Sidelined with an injury most of the spring, Zapiec made his move to linebacker late and had his first real scrimmage at linebacker in the Blue-White game. Paterno liked what he saw. "He hits hard and played rather well considering the little amount of time he has been at that position," the coach said.

There were four lettermen fighting for defensive backfield positions in the spring—Terry Stump, Stan Baran, Charlie Mesko and former offensive back Wilson — and that number will go to six this fall with the return of Landis and Smith. Other candidates are Steve Stille, up from the freshman team, and Greg Ducatte, a reserve linebacker and letterman last year. Ducatte could move to defensive end.

The defensive line situation is especially critical because of the loss of tackles Reid and Smear and end Ebersole and the move of Hull from end to linebacker. Steve Prue, a two-time letterman as a reserve linebacker, shifted to end and was having a good spring until he was sidelined with a broken hand. Bruce Bannon, a freshman fullback-linebacker last year, is behind him. Letterman Wayne Munson, a former tight end and offensive tackle, and Carl Cayette, a freshman running back last season, are battling for the other end spot. Non-lettered returnee John Aumiller and Ducatte also could be in the picture. Lettermen Gary Carter and Frank Ahrenhold played behind Reid and Smear last year and they started spring as the leading tackles. Within a week Carter was sidelined by knee surgery and with his fall status now questionable the tackle situation remains uncertain. Non-lettered returnees John Booth and Pat Lukasavich moved in from linebacker and center respectively and Doug Allen and Jim Heller were impressive newcomers.

Punter Parsons and place-kicker Reitz return to give State a strong kicking game. Larry Ludwig is the No. 2 punter with Bob Rickenbach and John Hull behind Reitz.

Coach Joe Paterno says:

A collection of Paterno quotes from before, during and after spring practice:

— We have lost some super athletes and it is questionable whether we can replace their ability, but of more importance we must develop the type of leadership these graduated people gave us. Mike Reid, Steve Smear, Charlie Pittman, Chuck Burkhart, just to name a few — and there were others — were great leaders. Several players this spring showed leadership potential. We'll see what develops in the fall.

* * * * *

— We're going to have to get old fast. We're going to be young in key spots on defense and until we are sound on defense we won't be a great football team.

* * * * *

— All thinking about our 1970 defense must be based on what we're comparing it to. If we're going to compare it to the usual good college defense, then we eventually should measure up to that standard. We can't possibly compare it to the Penn State defense of the past two years because that was not the usual good college defense. That was a super defense — perhaps the best in the history of college football.

* * * * *

— We can throw and catch. We have three quarterbacks who can throw the ball, lots of players who can catch it and run with it. We have a skilled offense.

* * * * *

— We have the skills. If we can keep our offensive line healthy, fill in some spots on defense and develop some depth we should have a pretty good football team.

* * * * *

— We accomplished some things in spring practice. We found out who most of the football players are and finally got them into what we now feel are the right spots. Most of the players now appear to be at the positions where they can do the most good, but it was late in spring practice until we finally settled on many of these spots — so we'll have to find out for certain in the fall.

* * * * *

— Our kicking game should be outstanding and must be so for us to do well.

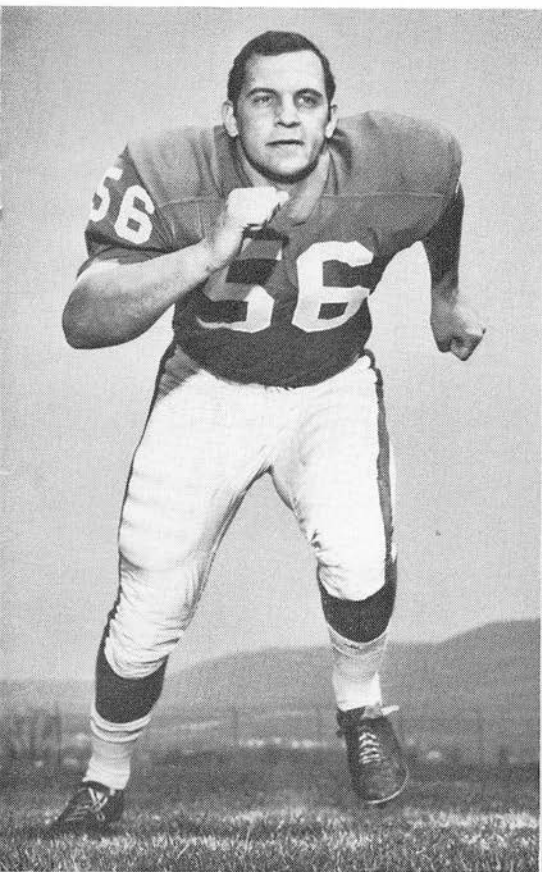

* * * * *

— Following the moves we made in spring — some of which didn't come until the final week of practice — the squad is now ready to start in the fall. It is ready to start but it is not ready to play. I don't see how we can hope to be anywhere near as good a football team as we were last year. Each game figures to be nip and tuck. We're going to have to scratch and do a lot of things right. Our offense will be under great pressure early in the season — at least until our defense is firmed up — and we will have to perform awfully well when we have the ball. I am not trying to sound too pessimistic — merely realistic. We have much to accomplish. In any case the 1970 team should be an enjoyable one to watch. It will be young, enthusiastic, reckless with players who can run, catch and hit — and it will take chances, both on offense and defense.

* * * * *

— Jack Ham should rank in the super-star class in 1970. As a linebacker he can do it all. He's dedicated, intelligent, quick, a good pass rusher, and equally outstanding against the run or pass. He's just a great all-around athlete and certainly among the top two or three linebackers in the country.

Lions Enrolled in Varied Majors

That Penn State players are planning an interesting variety of careers following graduation is evidenced by the wide range of major fields of study among members of this year's squad. And most are standout students too. For 21 consecutive terms the composite scholastic average of football lettermen has been higher than the all-male University average.

The Coaching Staff

JOE PATERNO

Penn State's Head Football Coach

You get pretty good insight to Joe Paterno by just listening to him talk.

"I remember as a kid," he said recently, "listening to the Notre Dame-Ohio State game, and listening to the bowl games and dreaming . . . and getting all shaken up.

"Someone once said that coaches are kids who never grew up and I guess that's how it is with me. I'm kind of a cornball, I suppose.

"I've sat in front of a TV and watched Orange Bowl games. Five or six years ago I said to my wife that someday I wanted to be down there coaching. To me, it's a great thrill."

Well, Paterno's dream came true — twice, along with some other things he never dreamed of. For example:

—Paterno was named Coach of the Year in 1968.

—He has been named Eastern Coach of the Year two consecutive years.

—He recently won the Pennsylvania Award for Excellence in athletics. His three predecessors in this award were Stan Musial, Arnold Palmer and Robin Roberts.

In four years as a head coach Paterno has built an awesome record. He has a won-lost log of 35-7-1. He's had three bowl teams. He's won two Orange Bowl championships in a row.

And he has coached Penn State to 22 straight wins and 30 consecutive games without a defeat. Both are the nation's longest current streaks.

After the 1968 season Paterno turned down a coaching offer in professional football that would have meant financial security for the rest of his life. Afterward he told why.

"My genuine love for a great University . . . the relationship of a college coach with fine young men at such a vital stage of their lives . . . my personal goal of giving Penn State the best of big-time football within the framework of sound academic and financial policies and my deep belief that football can and should be fun and make a strong contribution to higher education."

After last season he told a group of students at Recreation Hall: "The 1970s are the Decade of Destiny for Penn State. They will offer a great challenge. This season's football team showed what can be done if you get serious. We should strive to make Penn State No. 1 in everything. We should be proud of Penn State and try to be best in all areas, morally, physically, etc."

Paterno, who brings to coaching qualities of intellect and integrity, likes to talk about football at Penn State as the "Grand Experiment."

"We want our players to enjoy football," he says. "We want them to enjoy college. We want them to learn about art and literature and music and all the other things college has to offer. College should be a great time. It is the only time a person is really free. We don't want them just tied to a football program."

And that's the way Paterno recruits. There are no wild promises or empty guarantees. There is no red shirting or lowering of admission standards. It's made clear early in a player's career that education and academic scholarship are paramount.

This experiment is Paterno's dream of being able to build great football teams without making concessions in vital areas of academic quality.

Paterno also senses his place in Penn State's football history.

"We are all part of a great tradition," he says, "a winning tradition started 27 years ago by Coach Bob Higgins and continued under Rip Engle. We have a great responsibility to carry on this tradition."

Paterno has come quite a distance since 1949 when he was a skinny-legged quarterback at Brown whose play caused the late Stanley Woodward to write:

"He can't run and he can't pass. All he can do is think — and win."

But at Brown he quarterbacked two of Rip Engle's best teams (7-2 in '48 and 8-1 in '49) and also played varsity basketball.

Paterno, however, almost missed his calling to the coaching profession, following his graduation from Brown in 1950 with a degree in English Literature.

"I had planned a career in law, or perhaps even politics," Paterno explains, "until Rip told me he had taken the Penn State job and asked if I would go along and coach the offensive backs."

Joe decided to give it a brief try, "just to broaden my experience before going to law school." He had been accepted by the Boston University Law School.

That was 20 years ago.

"I grew to love Penn State so much that after two or three years with Rip I dreamed about nothing other than becoming its head coach someday," said Paterno. "It's the only job I ever really wanted in coaching."

During his 16 years as Engle's assistant he achieved national recognition for his development of quarterbacks like All-American Richie Lucas, Milt Plum, Al Jacks, Tony Rados, Dick Hoak, Galen Hall, Pete Liske, Tom Sherman and Chuck Burkhart.

Born in Brooklyn, Dec. 21, 1926, Paterno attended Brooklyn Preparatory School (Class of '45), where he played in the same backfield with his brother George, now an assistant coach at Michigan State.

In his senior year at Brooklyn Prep, Joe was the star of an 8-1 team whose only defeat was to St. Cecilia's of Englewood, N.J., a powerhouse coached by Vince Lombardi.

Paterno was in the Army in 1945 and 1946, serving part of his tour of duty with the Army of Occupation in Korea. He entered Brown following his military discharge.

Joe married the former Suzanne Pohl- and of Latrobe, Pa., in 1962. She's a Penn State graduate, Class of 1961. They have two daughters, Diana Lynn (born 4-7-63) and Mary Kathryn (b. 1-13-65) and two sons, David (b. 7-1-66) and Joseph Jr. (b. 10-21-68).

A man with a sharp sense of humor and wit, Paterno loves lively discussions on a wide range of topics — especially politics, current events, history, and of course, sports.

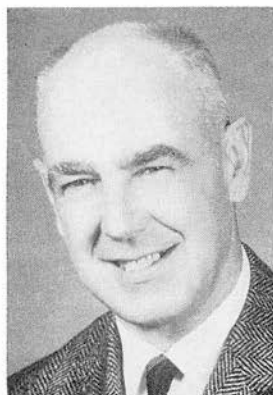

The most exciting aspect of coaching?

"The day in and day out work with young men," Paterno says. "You work with them, work with them and work with them — they have confidence in you and you in them, and all of a sudden on a Saturday afternoon you look up and there are 50,000 people and your players wonder whether they can do the job and you wonder if you've been able to get the job across to them. Then the whistle blows and you're in the middle of things. It's great excitement — a great feeling of pride when the players and coaches get the job done. Of course, you're frustrated when you don't, but this part too is exciting — and part of the whole thing."

Robert W. Phillips, whose Montour (Pa.) High School football teams won 92 of 108 games during 12 years, was named assistant football coach and instructor of physical education March 1, 1966.

Phillips coached Montour High to a record of 92 victories, 12 losses and four ties, and produced unbeaten-untied teams in 1957, 1958, 1962, 1963 and 1964 and an unbeaten but once-tied eleven in 1965. During his last four seasons his teams suffered only one defeat and one tie. His 1957 and 1958 teams won the Class B WPIAL titles and his 1963 and 1964 teams won Class A WPIAL titles.

Included among the standout players he produced in high school are Penn State All-American tight end Ted Kwalick, and Chuck Burkhart, quarterback of Montour's 1965 team and Penn State's all-winning quarterback of past two seasons.

A native of Robinson Township, Pa., and a 1943 graduate of Robinson Township High School (now Montour High), he was graduated in 1950 from Slippery Rock State College where he majored in physical education and played football and basketball. He served in the Air Force from 1943 until 1946, spending two years in the South Pacific.

He coached football and track at Sewickley (Pa.) High School during the 1950-51 school year, moved to Rochester (Pa.) High in September, 1951, and was assistant football and assistant basketball coach there until moving to Montour High in 1954.

Phillips is 44 years old and unmarried.

Chuck Medlar

Trainer
Penn State '46

Chuck Medlar, head trainer for all Penn State athletic teams, as well as baseball coach, was also head trainer for the United States Olympic Team in Mexico City in 1968.

Medlar, a 1946 graduate of Penn State, attended Allentown (Pa.) High School where he earned letters in football, basketball and baseball. Following a year at Pennington (N.J.) Prep, he entered Penn State in 1938 and competed in football, basketball and baseball as a tackle, center and pitcher, respectively.

He left college in 1941 to play professional baseball with Beaumont (Texas League) as property of the Detroit Tigers, and in 1942 moved to Buffalo of the International League.

He entered the Navy December, 1942, serving overseas at Pearl Harbor and Midway as a chief petty officer. Discharged in 1946, he rejoined Buffalo only to have his professional career ended because of a sore arm. He returned to Penn State in September, 1946, as assistant to trainer Jack Hulme and to complete his studies.

When Hulme died that same year, Medlar who had assisted him in 1940 after a knee injury forced him out of football, succeeded him as trainer and in 1948 was appointed to the physical education faculty.

In 1950, 1951, 1952 and 1953 he was selected as trainer for the North team in the Blue-Gray games.

He was a trainer for the U.S. Olympic team in the 1964 Olympic Games in Tokyo and recently was named to the U.S. Olympic Medical and Training Services Committee.

In seven seasons as head baseball coach, Medlar has directed the Lions to 113 victories against just 64 defeats and three ties. Three times — 1963, 1967 and 1970 — his teams have won invitations to the NCAA District 2 playoffs, and once, in 1963, the Lions were district champions and an entrant in the College World Series at Omaha.

1969 IN REVIEW

"Pride and Poise"

It wasn't an easy question for Joe Paterno to answer — trying to sum up the 1969 season in a few words.

"I suppose," he said, "it would be pride and poise."

— the pride and poise of a team just completing its second straight undefeated, untied season at 11-0.

— the pride and poise of a team beating back highly-ranked Missouri time and time again for a second straight Orange Bowl victory.

— the pride and poise of a team that ranked second in the nation in the final polls.

— the pride and poise of a team coming back from a 14-0 fourth quarter deficit midway in the season to win 15-14 and preserve college football's longest unbeaten streak.

— the pride and poise of a team winning a third straight Eastern college football championship — the first time it's been done since World War II.

This, to Joe Paterno, was Penn State football in 1969. This and the players on the squad.

It was players like safety Neal Smith, who came to college without a football scholarship and left as an All-American with a bundle of school records including 12 pass interceptions for a season and 21 in a career.

And like halfback Charlie Pittman, considered by Paterno as one of the great backs in Penn State history, who set school marks in touchdowns (32 for a career, 14 for a season), points scored (192 in a career) and rushing attempts (454 in a career).

Players like tackle Mike Reid, a piano playing, play acting, water skiing, horseback riding, do-everything defensive co-captain, who proved to all he was the best interior lineman in the country by winning the Outland Trophy award and placing fifth in the Heisman Trophy balloting.

Perhaps the most striking feature of the 1969 Nittany Lions was the defense, a unit which basically was intact since a brisk autumn day back in 1967 when Penn State last lost a game, 17-15 to UCLA.

They were sophomores then, just breaking in. But the result of the experience they gained through almost three seasons together was never more in evidence than in 1969. The Lions set a new Penn State record for fewest points allowed in a 10-game season, yielding just 87 for an average of 8.7 a game.

It was also a defense that put up 107 of Penn State's total 312 points with 24 pass interceptions, nine fumble recoveries, and three blocked punts.

In the mold of the Paterno philosophy that football is a game of "we" and "us" rather than "I" and "me," many names dotted the star-studded defense — Reid, a unanimous All-America selection, and Steve Smear at tackles; All-America Denny Onkotz, Jim Kates, Jack Ham and Mike Smith at linebackers; Neal Smith at safety; John Ebersole and Gary Hull at defensive end, Paul Johnson and newcomer George Landis at defensive halfbacks.

"It was a combination of superior personnel, experience and fine young men with tremendous pride," said Paterno. "They liked each other, played together well and enjoyed the game. Everyone of them was unselfish. And that was the biggest thing going for them. They were not concerned about who got the credit."

The pride of which Paterno talked was perhaps most evident against Syracuse. It was like the 1968 Orange Bowl all over again.

The Lions were behind — this time 14-0 — going into the fourth quarter. And it was Chuck Burkhart, who never lost a high school or college game in which he started at quarterback, bringing the Lions back to a 15-14 victory. And like the Orange Bowl, it was a penalty which gave Penn State a second crack at a two-point conversion that spelled the margin of victory.

As in 1968, excitement was the hallmark of the 1969 Nittany Lions. It was the excitement of Charlie Pittman gaining 100 yards or more in three games; Denny Onkotz breaking one of his patented punt returns; Mike Reid scoring his first college touchdown on a 26-yard pass interception.

It was also the excitement of new faces like Franco Harris scoring 10 touchdowns; Mike Reitz setting new school records with 33 extra points and 54 total points (including seven field goals) and Bob Parsons whose punts were almost disappointing to the fans if they didn't go 50 yards or more.

Paterno alternated six or seven backs during the season. Don Abbey and Harris gave the Lions a potent one-two punch at fullback. Pittman, Lydell Mitchell, Gary Deuel, and Fran Ganter kept Nittany Lion opponents guessing at halfback. And Greg Edmonds, Mitchell, Harris and Pittman all were potential Burkhart receivers in Penn State's passing game.

"They were a group of players with character and quality," said Joe Paterno. "I think that's why we were able to go 11-0 again."

It's also why Penn State has a 22-game winning streak and is unbeaten in 30 games.

Game-By-Game Summaries For 1969

Penn State 45, Navy 22

Annapolis, Md., Sept. 20 — Charlie Pittman exploded for two touchdowns in the first 4½ minutes today and got Penn State rolling toward a 45-22 victory over Navy before 28,796 at Navy-Marine Corps Memorial Stadium. Pittman plunged two yards to cap an eight-play, 69 yard drive, that he himself highlighted with a 37-yard run to the Navy four, less than 3½ minutes after the opening kickoff. Charlie struck only a minute later with a 58-yard dash completing a two-play touchdown drive. Mike Reitz drilled a 20-yard field goal to make it 17-0. Navy scored after Jeff Lammers blocked Bob Parsons' punt at the State 45 and returned it to the 16. The Lions put the game away with a 21-point third-quarter when sophomores Lydell Mitchell (39 yards) and Franco Harris (six yards) scored the first TDs of their careers and junior quarterback Mike Cooper dove for the other. Chuck Burkhart had an impressive eight for 10 passing day and caused Navy coach Rick Forzano to call him "a dandy and very underrated."

Penn State 27, Colorado 3

University Park, Pa., Sept. 27 — Penn State awakened from a Colorado-dominated first period, put 17 points on the scoreboard by halftime and moved to an impressive 27-3 victory over the Golden Buffaloes here today. The Lions, stunned by the loss of Charlie Pittman (ankle injury) on the opening kickoff, needed three interceptions (two by Neal Smith to tie Junior Powell's record of 12 and one by George Landis) to keep All-American Bob Anderson from guiding Colorado to first quarter scores. Fullback Don Abbey turned the game around for Penn State early in the second quarter when he blasted 41 yards through the middle of the Buff secondary for a 7-0 lead. What enabled State to achieve its first field position of the day and as a result, score first, was a 65-yard punt by Bob Parsons that drove the continually penetrating Buffaloes back to their own 20. Mike Reitz's 32 yard field goal jumped State into a 10-0 lead; then Franco Harris made it 17-0 from five yards after Chuck Burkhart hurried a 62-yard drive with aeriols to Greg Edmonds (20 yards) and Harris (13 yards). Colorado managed its only effective drive of the game (76 yards) after receiving the second half kickoff but it paid off in a mere three points that were suddenly made insignificant by Paul Johnson's ensuing 91-yard kickoff return for a touchdown. State's victory was its 13th in a row, breaking a school record. The heralded Anderson was held to four yards rushing.

Penn State 17, Kansas State 14

Manhattan, Kan., Oct. 4 — Penn State stormed to a 17-14 victory over Kansas State in the hot Kansas wind here today, but had to survive a turbulent final five minutes to do it. Again the first quarter belonged to the Big Eight Conference as the Wildcats spent it jamming the ball deep into Penn State territory. And again it was Penn State's defense that made the big play. The first five times Kansas got the ball it penetrated Lion territory. The Wildcats were stopped by two interceptions (Paul Johnson and Jack Ham) and fumble recoveries by Paul Johnson and John Ebersole, who played an excellent game despite an injured shoulder and was awarded the game ball. The fifth touchdown bid, which was generated by Russell Harrison's 43-yard run (stopped by Paul Johnson) was turned back when Lynn Dickey was nailed trying to pass on fourth and two. In the second quarter Bob Parsons gave Penn State its first field position of the game with a 64-yard punt from State's 36 to the KSU end zone. A punt later Lydell Mitchell made a thrilling 58-yard touchdown run and the Lions led 7-0 at halftime. Mike Reitz made it 10-0 in the third with a 33-yard field goal and Franco Harris climaxed a brilliantly-executed drive by Chuck Burkhart to stake State to a 17-0 lead. Mack Herron plunged a yard in the fourth quarter but the two-point conversion failed. Then Dickey alarmed the Lions with 15 seconds left in the game by finding Mike Creed loose for a 63-yard touchdown pass against the Lions' defensive reserves. Tackle Vic Surma pounced on the following onside kick, however, and Penn State had its 14th straight victory.

Penn State 20, West Virginia 0

University Park, Pa., Oct. 11 — West Virginia suffered its first defeat of the season and its first shutout in 40 games on this sun splashed Homecoming Day as Penn State blitzed the Mountaineers 20-0 before a Beaver Stadium record crowd of 52,713. The power-running of Jim Braxton and Bob Gresham, however, gave Penn State another uncomfortable first period before Lydell Mitchell ran under a 66-yard Chuck Burkhardt pass that carried the Lions to the West Virginia two-yard line. Franco Harris scored the TD from the one. Mitchell then scored himself from seven yards and Charlie Pittman, out of action since the opening kickoff of the Colorado game, plunged over to complete the scoring. West Virginia came into the game leading the country in rushing offense and second in overall defense. The Mountaineers penetrated Penn State territory three times, rushed for 138 yards (less than 40 in the second half) while the Lions compiled 383 total yards. State intercepted three of Mike Sherwood's first four passes, two by Neal Smith who today shattered Junior Powell's Penn State interception record of 12 with his 13th and 14th career steals.

Penn State 15, Syracuse 14

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct. 18 — Penn State came face-to-face with the end of its undefeated streak on this chilling, gray afternoon and survived the confrontation. In an exhibition of pride and poise, Penn State won dramatically over Syracuse 15-14 before 42,491 at Archbold Stadium, the fourth record crowd in five games this season for the Lions. Penn State was hopelessly outplayed for three quarters with the peak of its futility arriving in the third quarter when George Landis' recovery of Al Newton's fumble on the Syracuse 12 resulted in no Penn State points. Fate gave the Lions one more opportunity which turned out to be enough. Greg Allen fumbled on the Syracuse 32. Jack Ham recovered and this time Lydell Mitchell scored a touchdown from the four after a pass interference penalty allowed the Lions to survive a fourth down crisis on the Orange six-yard line. In a recreation of the Orange Halfback Lydell Mitchell does some fancy stepping through Wildcat defenders in 17-14 victory over Kansas State, while on the right Fullback Franco Harris leaves a posse of Syracuse defenders in his wake as he breaks loose on the 36-yard touchdown run that defeated the Orangemen, 15-14.

Bowl victory over Kansas, Franco Harris dashed into the end zone for the two-point conversion after a holding penalty nullified a two-point failure. Harris wasn't through. He hurried 36 yards to win the game the next time Penn State got the ball after defensive end John Ebersole got a hand on a Syracuse punt and prevented it from going farther than the Orange 39. Mike Reitz provided the victory point with his conversion. Neal Smith shut the door on Syracuse's final bid with his sixth interception of the season.

Penn State 42, Ohio University 3

University Park, Pa., Oct. 25 — Ohio University marched to a 3-0 lead in the first quarter today before 49,419 at Beaver Stadium, but then was crushed quite suddenly by 20 points in the second period and became Penn State's 17th straight victim, 42-3. Sophomore Franco Harris scored in his sixth straight game, this time from the four yard line, after he put the ball there with a 17-yard burst on the previous play. Gary Deuel scored twice in the game, and Neal Smith scored the first touchdown of his collegiate career by returning a Cleve Bryant pass 70 yards down the sidelines. Chuck Burkhardt scored his first TD of the season in the third quarter and linebacker Mike Smith picked up a blocked punt (by George Landis) on the Ohio one and stepped over the goal line for another touchdown.

Penn State 38, Boston College 16

University Park, Pa., Nov. 1 — Trailing 13-10 after a magnificently executed Boston College first half and 16-10 in the third period, Penn State erupted for 28 straight points and rolled to its 18th straight victory, 38-16. The Eagles achieved their lead on a pair of Frank Harris touchdown passes, the second one a 13-yard fake field goal toss to Jim Catone as the half ended. The Nittany Lions, however, unleashed a devastating ground game that accumulated a game total of 398 yards and rode it to victory as Franco Harris scored three touchdowns, bringing his season total to nine. Dennis Onkotz returned a punt 48 yards for the final touchdown of the game.

This is the kind of defense that won for Penn State in '69 — there's not another Buffalo in sight as fallen Colorado quarterback Bob Anderson is surrounded by no less than eight Lion defenders on the left, and on the right Kansas State's Mike Montgomery is engulfed in a sea of white as Steve Smear makes the tackle and Jack Ham, Jim Kates, Mike Reid and Mike Smith move in to assist.

Penn State 48, Maryland 0

University Park, Pa., Nov. 15 — Charlie Pittman scored three touchdowns today, the third breaking Lenny Moore's Penn State career record of 25, and the Nittany Lions ripped Maryland in 27-degree weather at Beaver Stadium, 48-0. The victory clinched a return trip to the Orange Bowl. Pittman scored the first three times the Lions had the ball from three, two and four yards, and defensive tackle Mike Reid scored the fourth Penn State touchdown, and the first of his college career, when he picked off a pass blocked by defensive end Gary Hull and roared 26 yards untouched. Don Abbey plunged over from one yard to make it 35-0 at the half. Paul Johnson returned a punt 56 yards and Lydell Mitchell zipped 71 yards from scrimmage for two third quarter touchdowns. Every member of the Penn State squad saw action.

Penn State 27, Pitt 7

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 22 — Charlie Pittman rushed for two second half touchdowns to break open an old-type Pitt-Penn State game here today and ignite the Lions to their nation-leading 20th straight victory and 28th game without a defeat, 27-7. Pitt's Tony Esposito tied the game in the second quarter following a roughing the kicker penalty against Penn State and it stayed that way until Pittman crashed in from the four following Dennis Onkotz's 71-yard punt return to the Panther five. Pittman rushed 17 yards to his second score and Don Abbey went 18 for another. State quarterback Chuck Burkhardt had an excellent passing day — 13 for 21 and 178 yards — the biggest of his career. Pitt didn't get a first down in the second half.

Penn State 33, North Carolina State 8

Raleigh, N.C., Nov. 29 — Penn State's suffocating defense saved its most powerful performance for a national television audience, allowing N.C. State a total offense of 21 yards before leaving the game in the fourth quarter as the Nittany Lions rolled to a 33-8 victory. Charlie Pittman broke Pete Mauthe's Penn State scoring record (171 points) with the first of his three touchdowns, a five yard run in the second period that gave the Lions what was an obviously safe 10-0 advantage. The game also featured Chuck Burkhardt's first touchodwn pass of the season, a 13-yarder that Pittman wrestled out of a defender's grasp in the end zone. NC. State got on the scoreboard when Van Walker intercepted a pass and returned it 71 yards for a touchdown in the final quarter. Franco Harris ran for 99 yards, caught three passes for 40 more and Pittman rushed for 94. Penn State completed its regular season with its 21st consecutive victory, 29th straight game without a defeat and 27th regular season win in a row.

ORANGE BOWL

Penn State 10, Missouri 3

Miami, Fla., Jan. 1 — If ever a defense won a bowl game, it happened here tonight as Penn State's Nittany Lions repeatedly slammed the door on Missouri's highly-touted offense for a 10-3 Orange Bowl victory over the Big Eight Tigers.

It was an almost unbelievable performance by the Lion defenders — who for the past several years have been making unbelievable performances almost commonplace — as they led State to its second straight Orange Bowl victory, its 22nd straight win and its 30th game without defeat.

Nineteen times the powerful Missouri offense got possession of the football and nine times the brilliant Lion defenders forced a turnover, intercepting seven passes and recovering two Mizzou fumbles.

The seven interceptions — two each by Dennis Onkotz, Neal Smith and George Landis and one by Gary Hull — were an Orange Bowl record, bettering the six turned in by Georgia against TCU in the 1942 classic, as well as an all-time record for any major bowl.

In many ways it was a strange contest. Examples . . .

. . . The Penn State scoring all came within a 21-second span late in the first quarter, with Mike Reitz kicking a 29-yard field goal with 3:44 remaining and Chuck Burkhart passing moments later to halfback Lydell Mitchell for a 28-yard touchdown after which Reitz converted. The TD was set up after Mike Reid jarred the ball loose from Missouri's Joe Moore and Mike Smith recovered the fumble.

. . . Except for this brief time, a Missouri defense that was considered suspect by many, did an outstanding job.

. . . Penn State's ground attack, rated its most potent weapon, netted just 55 yards as compared to Missouri's 189 — and the pass had been considered Missouri's best threat.

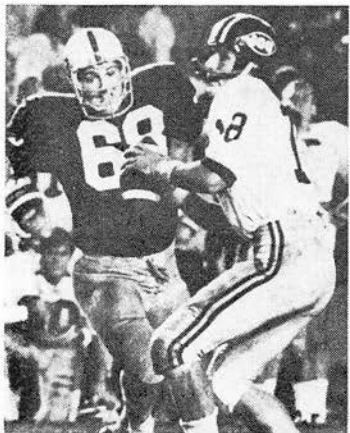

. . . And the Lions, who used the pass only when necessary throughout most of the season, outpassed the Tigers 187 yards to 117, with Burkhart completing 11 of 26.

Though Missouri's blazing speed and offensive potential posed a constant threat, the Tigers never were able to score a touchdown, their only points coming on a 33-yard field goal by Henry Brown late in the first half.

Time after time they drove into State territory and time after time they were stopped by one of the finest college defensive units ever assembled. Their last effort was wiped out when Landis intercepted at the goal-line with just 22 seconds remaining in the game — his second interception and the Lions' seventh.

All-American Onkotz summed it up best afterward.

When asked by a reporter in the locker room just how much longer the Penn State defense could have contained powerful Missouri, Okontz replied, "Forever."

All-America tackle Mike Reid closes in on Missouri quarterback Terry McMillan in the 10-3 Orange Bowl victory — a victory that led to a ride to the showers for Governor Raymond P. Shafer, State's No. 1 fan, following the game. Doing the honors, among others, are John Booth and Gary Gray.

FOURTH PERFECT SEASON — SECOND TO WIN 10

The 1969 Nittany Lion team is the second in Penn State history to win 10 games during the regular season and only the fourth to win all of its games — the fifth, actually, if you were to count the two victories in the two-game schedule of 1887.

The other "perfect" teams which played a full schedule were the 1912, 1947, and 1968 aggregations, under coaches Bill Hollenback, Bob Higgins and Joe Paterno respectively.

Paced by Shorty Miller and Pete Mauthe, the 1912 team finished 8-0 and allowed only one touchdown, that to Cornell. All-American guard Steve Suhay led the 1947 team to a 9-0 mark and a 13-13 tie with S.M.U. in the Cotton Bowl. The 1968 team, paced by a superb defense and Charlie Pittman, Bob Campbell and Ted Kwalick, gave State its first 10-0 record and then edged Kansas, 15-14, in the Orange Bowl.

There have been several unbeaten, BUT TIED, teams: the 1894 6-0-1 under Coach G. W. Hoskins; 1909, 5-0-2 under Bill Hollenback; 1911, 8-0-1 under Hollenback; 1920, 7-0-2, and 1921, 8-0-2, both under Hugo Bezdek.

EASTERN - NATIONAL RANKING

The Lambert Trophy, symbolic of Eastern football supremacy, has been awarded seven times to Penn State — in 1947, when the Lions were unbeaten and untied in nine games and later played a 13-13 tie with S.M.U. in the Cotton Bowl; in 1961, when they posted a 7-3 record and then defeated Georgia Tech in the Gator Bowl; in 1962, when they compiled a 9-1 record before losing to Florida in the Gator Bowl; in 1964, when they won six of their last seven (the last five in a row) to finish with a 6-4 record; in 1967, when they finished 8-2 and tied Florida State in the Gator Bowl; in 1968, when they were 10-0 during the regular season and then defeated Kansas in the Orange Bowl to become the nation's only 11-0 team, and in 1969, when they again were 10-0 during the regular season and then defeated Missouri in the Orange Bowl.

The 1947, 1962, 1967, 1968 and 1969 teams have ranked in the Associated Press final top ten poll which was started in 1936. The 1947 team was ranked fourth, the 1962 team placed ninth, the 1967 team tenth, the 1968 team was second, and the 1969 team was second.

United Press International, which began its rating system in 1950, voted Penn State's 1959 team tenth; ranked the 1962 team ninth, the 1967 team eleventh, the 1968 team third, and the 1969 team second.

LEGEND OF THE NITTANY LION

Penn State's athletic symbol, chosen by the student body in 1906, is a mountain lion once said to have roamed the central-Pennsylvania mountains. Because Penn State is located in the Nittany Valley at the foot of Mt. Nittany, the lion was designated as a Nittany Lion. Nittany evolved from the word Nita-Nee, which was the favorite cognomen for Indian maidens. Legend tells us that one Nita-Nee, the daughter of Chief O-Ko-Cho who lived near the mouth of Penn's Cave, fell in love with a trader named Malachi Boyer. For this Boyer was imprisoned and forced to die in Penn's Cave. The tearful maiden and her lost lover became legend and her name now graces the stately mountain and the athletic teams of Penn State.

Penn State Won 31 — Lost 35 — Tied 3

Beaver Stadium — Home of the Nittany Lions

Penn State, which played its home games from 1909 through 1959 in 30,000-capacity Beaver Field on center campus, moved into a 46,284-capacity all steel stadium in 1960. Additional seats were added during the past few years, bringing the present capacity to 48,344. Beaver Stadium is a unique assembly of something old and something new. The old stadium was dismantled after the 1959 season and moved in 700 pieces a mile and a half to the new east-campus location. It was reassembled beneath the new superstructure — and now towers 70 rows high on each side, from goal line to goal line. The closed end of the horseshoe remains as it was, 35 rows high. Steel men say it is the largest all-steel stadium in the country, and probably in the world. There are 48,344 permanent seats (with 30,284 between the goal lines), and room for approximately 2,000 temporary bleacher seats in the open end of the horseshoe. The stadium is named for General James A. Beaver, a former Pennsylvania governor who served for many years as president of the Penn State Board of Trustees. There is ample parking space.

The Pennsylvania State University

The Pennsylvania State University was chartered in 1855 as one of the pioneer institutions in a beginning national movement to offer higher education to all classes of society.

By 1862, when Abraham Lincoln signed the land grant act "to promote the liberal and practical education of the industrial classes," Penn State had already awarded its first Bachelor of Scientific Agriculture degrees. In 1863, it was designated as the land grant college of Pennsylvania by the State Legislature.

From humble beginnings, the University has grown to be the twelfth largest in the nation with a student body of more than 43,000 and a faculty of some 3,200 members. The University has awarded more than 135,000 degrees, and it ranks among the first 25 institutions in the country in the production of doctorates.

The University currently offers bachelor's degrees in 118 separate fields. Graduate programs are available in 118 fields.

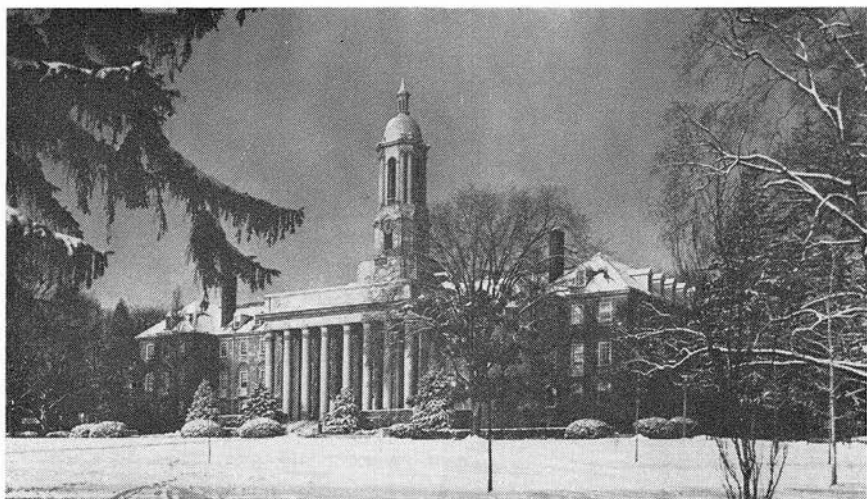

A distinctive feature of Penn State is a system of 19 Commonwealth Campuses, strategically located throughout Pennsylvania to bring the University within commuting range of virtually every person in the State. These campuses offer the first two years of the baccalaureate degree as well as terminal two-year programs in engineering and related technologies.

The central campus at University Park, located in the heart of the Commonwealth, is devoting more and more of its efforts to third and fourth year undergraduate instruction and graduate work. The Capitol Campus near Harrisburg also offers third and fourth year undergraduate programs and graduate work at the master's level. Other graduate centers are operated at King of Prussia and Erie.

The newest unit in the University is the College of Medicine at the Milton S. Hershey Medical Center in Hershey. Made possible by a $50,000,000 allocation by the M. S. Hershey Foundation, the college accepted its fourth class in fall 1970.

The University's physical plant comprises 14,775 acres of land and is valued at $280,000,000.

Dr. John W. Oswald

President, The Pennsylvania State University

Dr. John W. Oswald is Penn State's 13th president. He assumed the office of the presidency on July 1, 1970.

Dr. Oswald came to Penn State from the University of California where he had served as executive vice-president since 1968. He was president of the University of Kentucky from 1963 to 1968.

Born in Minneapolis, Minn., Dr. Oswald is a graduate of DePauw University. He received his Ph.D. in plant pathology from the University of California in 1942. As an undergraduate, Dr. Oswald excelled in the classroom and on the athletic fields. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa as well as captain of the football team. He also earned varsity letters in basketball and track.

After receiving his doctorate, Dr. Oswald entered the Navy. He served until 1946 and had more than 50 combat missions as a PT boat captain and divisional commander in the Mediterranean, earning the Navy Commendation Medal.

Dr. Oswald returned to the University of California after his release from the Navy. He was assistant professor of plant pathology and plant pathologist in the Agricultural Experimental Station at Cal's Davis campus.

In 1953, Dr. Oswald received a Fulbright grant to the Agricultural University of The Netherlands. He returned to Cal's Berkeley campus in 1954 as chairman of the Department of Plant Pathology. He was promoted to full professor in 1957 and began concurrent duties as administrative assistant to the Chancellor of the Berkeley campus.

Dr. Oswald was promoted to the Office of the President of the state-wide University of California system in 1958. He served as academic assistant to the president, assistant vice president, vice president and executive assistant. He was named vice president for administration in 1962.

In his five years as president of the University of Kentucky, Dr. Oswald was instrumental in developing a system of 15 two-year campuses. He left Kentucky in 1968 to become the number two man in the University of California nine-campus system of more than 100,000 students and almost 10,000 faculty members.

A trustee of the Institute for Educational Management, he is serving as chairman of the Senate special committee on federal legislation for the National Association of State Universities and Land Grant Colleges. He is also a member of the Association's standing committee on educational telecommunications.

Dr. Oswald is chairman of the American Council on Education's commission on academic affairs and is a member of the ACE's policy and planning committee.

His professional and honorary memberships include Sigma Xi, and the American Phytopathological Society. He was a consultant to the National Science Foundation from 1960 to 1967. He holds honorary degrees from Depauw University, University of Louisville, Centre College and the University of California, Davis.

Dr. Oswald is married to the former Rosanel Owen of Birmingham, Ala. They have two daughters, Elizabeth and Nancy, and a son, John, Jr.

Robert J. Scannell

Dean of the College of Health,
Physical Education and Recreation

Dr. Robert J. Scannell succeeded Ernest B. McCoy as Dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of the Sports Research Institute on July 1 of this year. He had been Associate Dean since 1967.

At Penn State, the position of dean of the College of Health, Physical Education, and Recreation is distinctive in that it combines responsibility for academic programming, intramural and intercollegiate athletic activities, and student recreation in one administrative unit.

As administrator of the Sports Research Institute, Dr. Scannell will develop and direct a unique program which utilizes coaches, medical personnel and researchers from many disciplines throughout the University in both practical and theoretical study of sports in contemporary society. The Institute was established early in 1969.

The new dean is a graduate of Notre Dame, where he received a bachelor of science degree, magna cum laude, in physical education and earned three varsity letters in football. He was awarded the master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees, also in physical education, by Penn State.

Dr. Scannell joined the Penn State faculty in 1961, following three years at John Adams High School, South Bend, Ind., where he was chairman of the physical education department, teacher, and football and swimming coach.

In 1963, he was appointed Dean McCoy's representative for Commonwealth Campus programs. In this capacity, he has been responsible for the development of instructional health and physical education and intramural and intercollegiate athletic programs throughout the Commonwealth Campus system of the University. In 1967 he was named associate dean for undergraduate resident instruction, with responsibility for the academic programming of the College.

Dr. Scannell, whose teaching and research interest focus on motor skill learning and program administration, has published articles in professional journals and presented papers at meetings of the American and Pennsylvania State Associations for Health, Physical Education, and Recreation, of which he is a member. He has also served as editor of the Pennsylvania Journal of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

He has devoted considerable time and effort to the University Senate in recent years, serving on various committees and as Senate vice-chairman (1967-68) and chairman (1968-69). He is currently a member of the Senate Rules Committee, the Senate Council, and is chairman of an Ad Hoc Committee studying the relationship between the Senate and the Board of Trustees.

Edward M. Czeka

Director of Athletics

When Ed Czeka (pronounced CHECK-eye) moved into the athletic director's job on July 1, 1969, he brought 16 years experience in athletic administration to the position.

Most of that experience was gained at Penn State under Ernest B. McCoy, the man who recommended that Czeka move up to the top position.

As athletic director, Czeka succeeded McCoy, Dean of the College of Health, Physical Education and Recreation and director of athletics since 1952. Czeka's promotion, in fact, was recommended by McCoy, who continued to serve as dean of the college of health and physical education and director of the Sports Research Institute until June 30 of this year.

Czeka, 47 years old and a 1948 Penn State graduate, had been associate athletic director since 1967 and business manager of athletics since 1957. He continues to serve as business manager.

He joined the Penn State staff in 1953 as assistant graduate manager of athletics. In 1955 he became ticket manager and assistant business manager and in 1957 he was promoted to business manager. He was named associate athletic director July 1, 1967.

He was on the athletic staff at The Johns Hopkins University from 1948 until 1951 and was with the Marine Corps in Korea in 1951 and 1952, with the rank of captain.

As an undergraduate, he played varsity football and basketball and was an end on the Nittany Lions' unbeaten 1947 team which played in the Cotton Bowl, Jan. 1, 1948. He received a master of education degree from Penn State in 1954.

In January of 1969 he was named "College Athletic Business Manager of the Year" by the College Athletic Business Managers Association meeting in Los Angeles.

On the national level, he is a member of the College Athletic Business Managers Association (having served as president in 1965) and the National Association of College Athletic Directors, serving on the publications committee of that organization. Active in the U.S. Intercollegiate Lacrosse Association, he has served as vice president, member of the long-range planning committee, chairman of the statistics committee and is now on the rules and tournament committee. He is a member of the U.S. Gymnastics Federation Committee as well as a member of a special NCAA committee to investigate additional support for championship events which incur deficits. He has been inducted into the Helms Hall of Fame Foundation for business managers.

He has been the meet director for NCAA gymnastics and wrestling championships and in 1968 was cited by the NCAA wrestling rules committee for his outstanding direction of the national wrestling tournament. He also has directed Olympic trials in gymnastics and wrestling and annually serves as director of the Pennsylvania high school championship in track, golf, tennis, volleyball, rifle and cross-country.

On the sectional level, he is chairman of the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC) long-range planning committee, a member of the finance committee, president of the Eastern Gymnastics League, member of the awards and public relations committee, and was a member of the 1968-69 Lambert Trophy selection committee.

A native of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., and a 1941 graduate of Ramsay High School where he played football and basketball, Czeka is married to the former Virginia Gallup (Penn State '48) of Port Allegany. They have two children.

INTERSECTIONAL FLAVOR BLENDS WITH OLD RELIABLES ON FUTURE FOOTBALL MENU

There's a distinct intersectional flavor to Penn State football schedules of the future.

Numbered among the intersectional opponents of the future are Iowa, Air Force, TCU, North Carolina State, Illinois, Wake Forest, Kentucky, Miami and Nebraska.

Unaffected by the inauguration of such intersectional relationships — or the return of former intersectional foes to the schedule — will be such "regulars" as Syracuse, Pitt, Navy and West Virginia. They are permanent fixtures on future schedules. And becoming almost as "regular" are Army, Maryland and Boston College.

Looking at the schedules for the five-year period from 1971 through 1974, here are some of the highlights:

The Nittany Lions are scheduled to open with Navy each of those years on a home-and-home basis.

Pitt, for many years the home team in the long-time Lion-Panther rivalry, will play at Beaver Stadium in 1972. The Panthers, of course, play at Penn State this fall too.

Army, Navy and Air Force all appear on the 1971 schedule, with Air Force and Army coming to Beaver Stadium on consecutive October weekends.

The Lions will tackle Big Ten teams Iowa and Illinois, meeting the Hawkeyes away in 1971 and taking on Iowa and Illinois back-to-back in 1972.

PENN STATE RADIO NETWORK

Penn State will have a new talent team for its 1970 football radio network.

Fran Fisher, color announcer on the network for the past four years, will do play-by-play of the Nittany Lions' games.

He succeeds Tom Bender, Penn State's play-by-play man for the past eight seasons.

Mickey Bergstein, who has been statistical analyst and network producer, will handle the color commentary.

FISHER is special projects director for the Pennsylvania State University's division of broadcasting, which operates WPSX, the University's public television station. MEMO TO PRESS-RADIO-TV

The material in this brochure was compiled for your convenience in covering Penn State's 1970 football season. Contents of this booklet and changes in plans and personnel will be supplemented before and during the season by the Sports Information Office.

Should you desire additional information, services, or material, contact Jim Tarman, John Morris, or Barry Jones at 235 Recreation Building, Pennsylvania State University, University Park, Pa. 16802, Telephone 814-865-1757.

When making requests for working press credentials allow time for mailing. For late requests, tickets will be left with attendant at press gate immediately behind West stand of Beaver Stadium. If wire or telephone service is required, please make necessary arrangements through your Western Union or telephone office.

WORKING PRESS: Admittance to the Beaver Stadium press box will be limited to the working press only. Press box passes are marked with row and seat numbers and assignments will be made upon receipt of request. Working space in the press box is at a premium, so in some cases admittance is limited to those papers actually covering for Sunday editions.

RADIO: There are six permanent radio booths in Beaver Stadium and facilities to make several additional temporary ones when necessary. One permanent booth will always be occupied by the Penn State Football Network. Another of the remaining permanent booths will be assigned to the visiting team's official station. For comfort, announcing crews should be limited to four persons plus one spotter for each team. Opponent stations should indicate when requesting credentials whether or not they will require a spotter for the Penn State team.

TELEVISION: Penn State's "live" television appearances are designated by the N.C.A.A. Television Committee, and facilities will be assigned in accordance with N.C.A.A. approval. This year, the Sept. 26 game at Colorado and the Oct. 24 game at Army will be televised nationally and regionally respectively by ABC.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Press photographers will be assigned press box or sideline credentials or both, depending on requirements. Field passes are normally limited to daily newspaper, wire service, and magazine photographers with one caption writer or messenger available to each photographer. Field photographers must not stand in front of spectators nor pass in front of players' benches and are not permitted to enter the stands except with special permission. The "press box photo" pass allows the photographer to work on the top of the press box roof, or in any of the enclosed areas of third deck of the press box specifically designated for photographers. The same rules apply to newsreel photographers. Camera crews making the coaching films for the opponent school will be limited to three persons.
